Ohio wants the postmaster generalship. But this piece of news will not surprise anyone. It would surprise everybody if Ohio didn't want it.

The session of the legislature which closes on Wednesday, will be 85 days in length, the longest session since 1866, when it was 93 days.

A large number of girls employed in a shoe factory at Allentown, Pennsylvania, have gone on a strike simply because the men shoemakers got into a quarrel with the employers.

Mr. James MacAlister, superintendent of the public schools in Milwaukee, has resigned, and has accepted the superintendency of the schools of Philadelphia. His annual salary is $6,000.

Judge Davis informs the country that he will not hang around Washington as ex-members do. He proposes to exercise moral courage enough to keep away, which very few men have who have once been in congress.

The legislature which closes to-morrow, accomplished nothing in regard to the license question. After much talk, lobbying, and scores of amendments, to the original bills, the minimum license remains at $75 as heretofore.

The gamblers are making an exodus from Nashville, finding little to attract them to the place since faro-dealing has been declared a felony. They can go to Chicago where they will be received with open arms by Harrison and his friends.

It will cost the state of Georgia $50,000 to elect a governor in the place of the lame Stephens. The question as to who the governor shall be will be a difficult question to settle. The democrats are already playing the part of the Kilkenny cats in striving for the office.

The good people of this country sincerely wish that Chicago will be delivered to-day from the hands of Carter Harrison and his gamblers and prostitutes. Such a government as his under such infamous influences, should not be allowed to disgrace any city on this continent.

The United States department of agriculture will shortly establish an experimental farm and hospital near Washington, for the treatment of domestic animals, with a view of ascertaining by a series of scientific experiments what are the causes of such diseases as Texas fever, pleuro-pneumonia, etc., and what are the best methods of preventing or curing them. The experiment will be under the direction of Dr. D. E. Salmon, of Asheville, N. C., a specialist, who has been for some time engaged in such investigations.

The direct appropriations made this year by the legislature reaches $373,471, against $329,554.44. The appropriations in detail are as follows:

Charitable, reformatory and penal institutions.	$533,500.00
Fishery commission.	12,000.00
Horticultural commission.	1,100.00
Legislative and committee.	1,000.00
Industrial school for girls.	2,000.00
Governor's contingent fund.	2,000.00
Sanitary for state.	6,000.00
State agricultural commission.	930.00
Southern Wisconsin Industrial Association.	200.00
Central Wisconsin Agricultural Association.	200.00
LaFayette County Agricultural Society.	100.00
Northern Wisconsin Agricultural Association.	3,000.00
Wisconsin State Agricultural Society (annual appropriation).	4,000.00
Wisconsin Dairymen's Association.	500.00
Wisconsin State Agricultural Society (for 1882-83).	4,482.00
Wisconsin Woolgrowers' Association.	200.00
Capitol extension.	8,000.00
Purchase Shepard's Digest Ws., S. C.	2,000.00
Anna Davis, for wolf bounty.	180.00
W. S. Monroe, printing copy laws.	80.00
Kelly A. Knott, injured by Williams' horse.	600.00
Chris L. Knott, discharging a pistol.	200.00
George O. Spear, contesting seat.	300.00
M. J. Egan, contested seat expenses.	10.00
Thomas Kennedy, serving subpoenas in Marion case.	25.00

As appropriations were needed for two years under the biennial system, the amount was duplicated.

A dispatch from Washington to the Milwaukee Sentinel says that a delegation called on the president with Senators Cameron and Sawyer, to urge the appointment of James H. Howe, of Wisconsin. James H. Howe is a nephew of the late postmaster-general and is well-known in the northwest. He is about 54 years of age and a native of Maine. For some years previous to 1860 he was engaged in the practice of law in Green Bay. In 1859 he was elected attorney-general of Wisconsin. Before his term of office expired he resigned, in order to enter the military service. He was colonel of the thirty-second Wisconsin regiment and made a good military record. Later he became the general solicitor of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad company and their general manager of that railroad. The latter position he resigned in consequence of ill-health, brought on by over work. In 1873 he was appointed United States judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin, but after holding the office a year or two resigned. He was subsequently a director of the Northwestern road.

The attorney general has decided that the appointment of a postmaster general must be made within twenty days after the death of Mr. Howe. The president had his trunk packed, his hunting suits made, and his fishing rods and guns in readiness, and was about to start for Florida, when the decision of the attorney general compelled him to defer the trip until he found a postmaster general.

MYSTERIOUS THEFT.

Abstraction of Securities from a Publishing Firm's Office.

No Clew to Their Whereabouts Obtained--Their Value Estimated at Nearly $100,000.

NEW YORK, April 3.—A series of sneak-thief robberies was successfully rounded off Saturday by the abstraction of securities aggregating $15,000. In the afternoon, Miss Doty, cashier for E. B. Treat, book publisher, No. 337 Broadway, went to the safe to get out an account-book, when she discovered that the inner-door to the safe was open, and that a large number of bonds and certificates of stock were gone. Treat, who asked him if he had taken the bonds with him, answered, "No, I left them with him." Answer was returned, saying that the bonds were in the inner safe. The detective learned that the bonds undoubtedly had been stolen, as the cashier of the firm had been absent for a week, and no one else was present.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Fusionists Have Probably Carried Michigan.

The Republican Gains in Cincinnati—Eshley Elected.

A Republican Gain of 1,100 at Columbus, Ohio.

Municipal Elections in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Florida, Connecticut and Elsewhere.

Detroit, Mich., April 3.—The election for two justices of the supreme court of the state, and for two regents of the state university, and the regular township spring elections took place yesterday. The election was very quiet, there being no excitement and very little curiosity manifested as to the result. The interest manifested by the Republicans was not so common among the Fusionists who have done a great deal of hard work in a quiet way. At the present writing it looks as if the Fusionists had made a clean sweep and carried their candidates all in a majority of over 5,000 although there is some doubt still about the candidates for supreme court. Blair, Republican, ran away behind his ticket in this city, and in Adrian, Lenawee county. O'Brien, on the other hand, ran something like 3,000 or 4,000 ahead, the comparison being based on the rate for Jerome, for Governor, last fall. Blair's rate is something of a gain on Jerome's rate at that time but it is very improbable that it will aggregate enough to overcome the Fusion majority. O'Brien may be beaten, but he will be.

HOWARD CITY, Mich., April 3.—Reynolds township gave Blair, Republican, for supreme judge, 50 majority; J. C. O'Brien, Republican, short term, 112 majority.

The Republicans now have a majority.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 3.—The municipal election passed off quietly, a light vote being polled. Much scratching was done, and at this hour full returns are not in. It is beyond doubt, however, that the entire Fusion city ticket is elected by an average majority of 1,200. The Republicans have five out of eight aldermen, giving the new council ten Fusionists and six Republicans. The present council is a tie. The city gives John W. Chapman, Fusion candidate for judge of the supreme court for the full term, 2,000 majority, while for short term the vote is close between O'Brien and Sherwood.

SAGINAW COUNTY.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., April 3.—Carrollton township, 60 Republican and 28 Democratic on state ticket; Spalding township, 14 Republicans majority on state ticket; Titabaukawas township, 30 Republican majority on state ticket; Swan Creek, 40 Republican state ticket, 150 Democratic, 110 Republican majority on state ticket.

SAGINAW CITY.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., April 3.—Carrollton township, 60 Republican and 28 Democratic on state ticket; Spalding township, 14 Republicans majority on state ticket; Titabaukawas township, 30 Republican majority on state ticket; Swan Creek, 40 Republican state ticket, 150 Democratic, 110 Republican majority on state ticket.

CHAMPAIGN.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 3.—The city election yesterday resulted in a victory for the temperance ticket in full, including three aldermen, except S. McFadden, marshal, and E. A. Knier, clerk on the license ticket. J. P. Kinney was elected temperance mayor with the lowest majority, 15, and J. T. Pierce, temperance attorney, with the highest majority, 205. G. F. Bourdelle, temperance treasurer, and H. G. Baker, supervisor. The majority of the two tickets were also elected were 124 and 129 respectively. The next council will be elected, four licensed aldermen held over, making the board four to three.

BLOOMINGTON NOMINATIONS.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 3.—The Republican city convention last night nominated Isaac N. Phillips for mayor. He is the candidate of the young Republicans, and was nominated by them last week and presented as their candidate at the Saturday night ward caucuses. He is a young lawyer, the partner of Senator Fifer, and is a cousin of United States Senator Culver. He is well known, large and commanding. Jacob Jacoby and Miss Georgina Trotter were re-elected to seats in the board of education without contest.

WAYLAND.

WAYLAND, Mich., April 3.—Blair's majority is 92 and O'Brien's 92. Great interest was manifested by both parties.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, April 3.—Last night not a single voting precinct had been counted showing an unusual amount of scratching. A few unofficial returns show a gain for Sadler, the Republican candidate for mayor, while Eshley, the Republican candidate for comptroller, runs far ahead of his ticket.

12,000 A. M.—But live precincts of sixty in the city are yet fully reported. Those now Republican gains. Unofficial reports gathered from the various wards indicate that the total is close to 7,000, the voting strength of the city is over 22,000, so that one can see how small a vote was actually polled.

HILLSDALE.

HILLSDALE, Mich., April 3.—At the city election the Republicans elected their entire ticket by majorities ranging from 2 to 150. The Republican candidates for justice of the supreme court and regents of the state university have 117 majority in the city.

NILES.

NILES, Mich., April 3.—The Democrats elect Chisolm Knox mayor by 155 majority; George Timmons, treasurer, by 180; Landen, recorder, and three out of four aldermen by varying majorities. The Republicans elect the recorder, marshal, and justice, and two of the four aldermen. The Democrats get the street commissioner and treasurer, and three out of the four supervisors. For justice of the supreme court, long term, Austin Black, Republican, majority, 634; short term, Oliver, Republican, 506; Showard, Democrat, 190; majority, 184. The Democrats carry both regents by 100 and 107 majority.

ANN ARBOR.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 3.—This city elects a Democratic mayor, Judge Harriman, by 250 majority; Durbin, Republican, recorder, board of supervisors, Democrat; council, 44.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., April 3.—On the city ticket the Republicans elected Akley, mayor; Fagleson, recorder; Walmsley, marshal; Dickinson, supervisor, and Brown, alderman. The Unionists elected Pfall, supervisor; Barlow, treasurer; Stamford, collector; and Barnes, alderman, and H. Johnson, school inspector.

PORT HURON.

PORT HURON, Mich., April 3.—The entire Democratic ticket was elected. John G. O'Neill was elected mayor over Robeson, who ran on three tickets, by 23 majority, and Kornar for Clark over Monroe. It was considered one of the hardest political contests that ever took place in this district.

An Eminent Banker Dead.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Joseph Upland Orris, a well-known broker of this city, died at Palatka, Fla., last Friday. He left his home five weeks ago with his wife and daughter to attend a wedding at Chattanooga, and then went to Florida to enjoy a short visit.

In 1864 he projected and organized the Ninth National bank of this city. He was president of the bank from 1864 to 1877, and in that time he raised the deposits of the institution up to $20,000,000. By his energy and tact he obtained the confidence and entire operation of Mr. Chad, the treasurer of the bank, and in 1870, with his two sons, he established a private banking business in this city under the firm name of Joseph U. Orris & Co.

On Wednesday the Eighteenth day of April, A. D., 1883, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all that certain piece, part and parcel of land, situated and being in the County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, and known and described as follows: The north sixty acres of the south west quarter of section 23, in town 12, containing one acre, of a large number (25) in town 12, being the same to be in uniform shape, and the south and north boundaries parallel with each other, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to raise the amount due to the plaintiff, for principal and interest, and fees, costs and disbursements in the aforesaid action, as provided in said judgment, and which may be sold separately without injury to the parties interested.

TROUBLE IN TEXAS.

The State Administration Under a Cloud.—The Charges of "Sittings" to be Investigated.

AUSTIN, Tex., April 2.—Messrs. Sweet and Knox, editors and proprietors of The Texas Sittings, were summoned before a special committee of the state legislature to prove the charge recently published in The Sittings substantially averring that the pontifical lobby had influenced the vote of some of the members by bribery. They asked until tomorrow to produce their proof. The charges have caused the wildest excitement, and the general impression is in favor of the opinion that it will be substantiated. Among the reports made in relation to this matter is one to the effect that private gambling-rooms have been routed where the members engage in poker understandingly to win. Should the proof be brought before the governor, and if he does not believe the information who has used their political power to help the combination of the lesser system. The lessor, however, has been broken by a vote of 62 to 22, though having passed the senate, and it is probable that the state will remain neutral. The negro convicts on the plantations. This is regarded as a good omen for Texas, and the supporters of the坐 are those who were in the minority, and among them was the negro. Had this policy prevailed, the next step would be to legalize means of sending as many of them as possible to the penitentiary.

Make the frames as for the hot-bed planting, except that less manure should be used. A depth of four or six inches of good manure would be better than a thick body, which might heat violently. Spread a little soil on top of the manure, to keep the potatoes from direct contact with the manure. Cut the potatoes to one or two eyes. Lay the pieces with two inches of each other, which will give about eight to ten square inches of room for each plant. Cover lightly with good soil and lay on the sashes.

In a few days the sprouts will start and roots will be thrown out. When the stems appear above the surface, sprinkle over an inch of good soil. This will cover the little weeds and thus you will avoid the necessity of weeding by hand. The plants will also be stronger and more healthy for this "hilling-up" process. Give plenty of air in all mild weather, that the plants may be hardy. When the outside weather becomes warm enough, the plants must be set in the garden or field where they are to grow.

They may remain in the beds till the tops are from four to six inches high. When ready to remove, take off the frame, and with a six-tine manure-fork take the plants up and lay them carefully in a hand-barrel, or wagon-box, for carrying to the field. Having the well-manured rows all prepared, take up a fork-full of the plants from the carriage, and carefully pull the plants apart, keeping as much of the soil and manure attached to the roots as possible, and lay in the furrows. A second hand should follow and draw soil around the roots, as when setting cabbages or other hot-bed plants. Then with a hoe, draw up more soil and you have a nice patch of potatoes all hoed, and perhaps nearly ready to bud, when your neighbors have but just planted theirs in the open ground.

If a frosty night is feared, a hoe-full of dirt may be hauled upon the tops, to be removed in the morning by careful brushing with the fingers.

This is method we have followed many years, and it has given us potatoes ripe for digging, from ten days to two weeks before they could be had by open ground planting.

If the plants are started too early, so that new potatoes are formed before transplanting, the crop is apt to be dwarved, as the roots get too large to be disturbed, but if the plants are but fairly started into growth so there shall be no check from transplanting, quite full crops may be expected.

When the garden soil is warm and dry enough to crumble by cultivation, these sprouted potatoes may be planted, carrying them in the trays and being careful not to bruise the sprouts when setting them in the rows.

They should be set sprout end up, of course, and a little earth must be drawn around and over them. When they show signs of cracking through, an inch more of earth may be laid over them with the hand hoe, or the land may be cultivated and brushed, so as to kill the weeds and kill a little.

For a large field, the latter method of forcing is to be preferred, as the labor will be less, and there can be no check to the growth. We have described these methods in previous years, but the many new readers will be glad to learn the details of an excellent method for getting early potatoes early.—New England Farmer.

Spring Bonnets.

Headgear has recently been at a standstill, except in more matters of detail. There has been nothing pictorial to fall back upon historically—art and royalty have been alike drawn upon until they are exhausted. Gainsborough and Rembrandt, Van Dyke and Sir Joshua Reynolds, Velasquez and Raphael, and others of the like period, have stood with many others for "creations" as hideously unlike the originals as Toulouse's wax figures are like the persons they represent, and have been "revived" each season, until now they are all in the market together, and ladies who pay their money can certainly make a choice. But the result is not as yet order. It is chaos.

All the manufacturers can do is to "all the market by sounding out" the winds and watch which way the wind blows for the current season. For three years past it has specialized the large hat and the small bonnet, with a penchant for the moderate pokon on the part of the elderly and homely or those who have not confidence in the correctness of their faces and features. As a protection to a little irregularity of eyes, nose, or mouth, the pokon is invaluable, and has besides a sort of quaintness very precious to those who can no longer hope to be picturesque.

There are many fancy materials for bonnets, but nothing so good, so useful, or that can be made so becoming as fine lace and ivy-leafed chip. The old straw and ivy-leafed chip are gaudy, but, with the chalk tint, the stiff dressing has disappeared, and the chip bonnet has disappeared, and the chip bonnet, has become well lined and garniture, has become a thing of beauty.

It is quite common now with English tailo-made dresses to send a close-fitting hat or bonnet made of the material of the dress, in the simplest possible manner. These tweed or heather-cloth bonnets possess a certain distinction which a very showy and much-trimmed bonnet may lack. It shows knowledge and the habit of getting the best things at the best places, as well as specializing their objects and purposes. This requires training and indicates cultivated antecedents.

A very pretty reception bonnet, which may be considered a novelty, and is suitable for early spring, has a crown which is made of satin rhabadines captained in a small shell pattern, and pointed with dots of beads, which have quite a new and charming effect. The bonnet is close, but set with a double row of small silk pompons in two or more shades of the color of the crown, which, in the case referred to, was a bronze brown, and strictly to mat it the costume.

BRIEFS.

Have you voted?

A heavy snow storm commenced about eight o'clock this morning and continued for one hour.

You can hear the result of the election at the Gazette office this evening, as soon as the vote is announced.

Prof. Severance's dancing school will be held in Apollo hall on to-morrow evening, and not on this evening, as some people are led to believe.

The east side sprinkling wagon was out yesterday, wetting down the dust on Main street, which accounts for the great snow storm of this afternoon.

The boarders at the Harper house now number twenty-six, the smallest number in some weeks. There have been no commitments from Janesville since Friday.

One drunk, on the west side, was taken in charge by officer Ed. Smith, this afternoon, which was the only disturbance requiring the presence of an officer in any part of the city to-day.

Dr. W. H. Judd is making some improvements to his residence on Bluff street in the second ward, by raising the same, and putting on new siding. When completed the doctor will occupy it with his family.

Judge A. Scott Sloum will hold court in Janesville during the first week of the April term, which begins on the 22d. Judge Bennett will hold a term at Sheboygan, beginning April 16, and will afterwards close the term here. Lawyers are requested to prepare their papers in all cases in which Judge Bennett has been counsel, so that they may be tried during the time Judge Sloum presides.

Mrs. Dr. E. B. Cross, of Burnham, Asia, will address a meeting of the mission circles of the various churches of this city at the Congregational church at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Mrs. Cross has been in Burnham since 1873, in connection with the Woman's missionary society of the Baptist church. Prior to that time, for six years, she was a teacher in the institution for the blind, and was then known as Miss Clara L. Baldwin. She is now in the city, the guest of Mrs. S. C. Little.

There was a large audience at the roller skating rink last night, the occasion being the library benefit. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Mr. F. A. Smith, and George Jackson, did some interesting work on roller skates, and Master Lee Richardson entertained the audience with an exhibition of his skill in riding his bicycle. Everyone interested in the success of the free library will thank the proprietors of the rink for their generosity. It was a gracious act on their part, and the friends of the library thank them sincerely for it.

The remains of Mrs. Jennie Slyfield, of Baraboo, Wis., who died in that place last evening, will arrive in this city to-morrow, and the funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Thomas King. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. A. A. Dresser, Mrs. Thomas King and Mrs. Henry Morris, of this city, where she also once resided. The three ladies above named went to Baraboo last evening, but did not arrive in time to see Mrs. Slyfield alive. She leaves three children to mourn the loss of a kind mother.

The election is passing off very quietly,—in fact there is no excitement at all. Voters approach the polls, cast their ballots and return to their business unmolested by the usual crowd of hangers-on around such places. There are many split tickets in the field, and the final count will only tell the exact result of the ballot, although many are predicting the election and defeat of certain candidates. There is scarcely any opposition to the proposition to raise six hundred dollars for the free library, and that measure will be adopted by a large majority. The exact figures can be learned at the Gazette office this evening.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVESON, PHOENIX.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 34 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with a south wind. At one p. m. the register stood at 45 degrees above zero. Cloudy—west wind. For the same hours one year ago the register stood at 45 and 71 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, March 30, 1 a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day: Upper Lake Region—Warmer, fair weather in the southern and eastern portions, light rains near Lake Superior, southeast to southwest winds and lower barometer.

We All Believe

That it is a long lane that has no turning; that many a shaft at random finds a mark the archer little meant; that no remedy sold will cure coughs, colds,roup, whooping cough and all throat and lung troubles so quickly nor permanently as Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure; that our druggists, Stearns & Baker are very generous to give trial bottles of the remedy free of charge.

Closed.

The board of trade rooms are closed to-day. This being a general election day, is by law a legal holiday, and there was no business transacted on change in any of the cities of the northwest. The courts are also observing the day by keeping closed doors.

The Election Returns.

The Daily Gazette office will be open this evening for the purpose of receiving the election returns, and the public are cordially invited to call and hear the returns read as fast as received. The Gazette will have the complete returns as soon as the canvas is made.

The Railroad Time Table.

A New Hay Carrier.

Messrs. Stricker & Miles, of this city, have invented and commenced the manufacture of a hay carrier and elevator, which bids fair to rival all similar inventions if not in a short time drive them entirely out of the market. They have named their carrier the Dead-lock, on account of the devices, being in reality a positive dead lock.

Messrs. Stricker & Miles have spent considerable time in perfecting this machine, and they now claim that there is no carrier and elevator in the market that possesses so many good points as the "dead lock," and yet it is the simplest device of the kind invented. In reversing from right to left, they draw two bolts and change the sheave and rope pulley—never untieing the ropes as required in other carriers—this can be done in a few minutes. The lock consists of three pieces, two clutches and one keystone wedge, forming almost a solid iron lock; when locked it cannot become unlocked until brought in contact with the trip block. The inventors justly claim that it is a "dead lock." This carrier and elevator can be used to good advantage for all purposes where loads are to be handled. The following are among some of the excellent points of superiority possessed by this invention over all others; it does not have to be removed to run right or left; it elevates and delivers both sides of the driveway; can be made double tackle by adding another sheave; it cannot get away from the trip-block without locking; the load is held independent of the ropes; it locks and trips from both sides; it is strong and durable, and is made of the best iron; they warrant it to do more and better work than any other carrier in the market; it will be sold as low as any first-class carrier in the market. The inventors propose to commence at once the manufacture of this excellent hay carrier in this city, and will offer the same to the trade with the full confidence that it is just what is claimed for it, the best invention of the kind in the market. Farmers will do well to examine the dead-lock before purchasing other kinds.

I Know Whereof I Speak.

For I have used it extensively. I regard Parker's Ginger Tonic as most excellent remedy for kidney, lung and stomach disorders. It invigorates without intoxicating. J. Francis, Religio Philos. Jonathan, Chicago.

The Largest and Smallest Horse in the World.

Colonel Barr Robbins, manager of the Great American and German Aled shows, has been constantly adding new and valuable attractions to the already mammoth collection of curiosities which will be exhibited under the canvas during the coming season. On Sunday was added to his stock register, by one of his imported Borneo ponies, a little foal, which weighed fifteen and a half pounds. This specimen of the horse kind is handsomely marked, spotted, white and black; is strong, well built, and as spry as a kitten. Mr. Robbins values this little pony at more than its weight in gold, and so far as a curiosity in a great show is concerned, it is of more value than all the white elephants in Burnham. It is known as Spring Brook as "Lady Gazebo." The giant horse, belonging to Mr. Robbins, which is twenty-one hands high and weighs twenty-two hundred pounds, looks like an elephant by the side of this Borneo pony. The great show can now justly boast of having the largest and smallest horse in the world, and are truly wonderful curiosities, which will draw the attention of admiring thousands the coming show season.

Frederick Ward as Virginius.

The coming of Mr. Frederick Ward is an important event to the theatre-goers of this city. He is a young star, an actor of many years of close study and experience, and will not disappoint any who hear him. In "Tragedy" he is winning success both in acting and in drawing full houses. He will open the engagement here to-morrow evening as Virginius, a part made famous by Macready, Forrest, and McCullough.

As to whether Mr. Ward, is capable of following in the steps of these illustrious tragic actors, we will leave the reader to judge after reading the following from the Cleveland Leader:

As he advanced during the progress of the play from repose of character and calm dignity of bearing, at first characteristics of the Roman father, to the touching grief over the death of "Dentatus," then to the sudden and terrible emotion of the trial, and finally to the terrible madness in the dungeon with "Gladius," he carried his audience captive step by step; and as he murmured the final "Ashes, ashes!" and the curtain fell, everybody felt that a strain had been relieved. The scene where the father plights the daughter to "Iulus" was full of delicate pathos, and touched all in the interview between "Virginius" and "Lucius" the
